

Dufry and Estee Lauder show their clients how to achieve holiday glamour!

The Dufry shop on the Caya Betico Croes in Oranjestad gave their clients a “Behind the Scenes” makeover so they could discover the glamour secrets of top models and make them their own. Resident Estee Lauder Beauty Expert Angelina Rojas performed the magic, showing dozens of women how to achieve the flawless look for skin, eyes, and lips that have made top models Carolyn Murphy and Liya Kebede cover girls.

The various looks, and how to acquire them, were tailored to today’s busy woman, and could be acquired in five easy steps with the latest in fashion colors, and paired to an appropriate scent as well.

Angelina demonstrated “eye intensity,” “natural perfection” for the face, and “lips on the double” that look sensual and tempting. Angelina, has been training to be certified as an International Beauty Expert with Estee Lauder’s top make-up artists, traveling to Miami regularly to complete a six-month course. She took part in the “Behind the Scenes” beauty seminar in Beverly Hills, and is devoted to helping women look their most beautiful with the fine line of Estee Lauder cosmetics and face care products.

Since the “Behind the Scenes” seminar featured an all-day photo shoot, it was important that the make-up of the models stayed flawless throughout the day. Thursday’s makeover sessions, featured Estee Lauder’s line of “Double Wear” products, guaranteed to keep a woman looking fabulous thorough a long day at work, holiday shopping, or any of the seasonal events that they may be attending. Angelina was available throughout Friday and Saturday to continue demonstrating the best holiday looks for the coming hectic days that can be continued through the next year.

Make-up is always changing, and woman should also be prepared to change their look depending on the event, and also their age. Consulting a make-up expert that will show you how to care for your skin and achieve the most flattering enhancement is de rigueur for any woman that cares to look her best. Aside from scheduled makeovers, Dufry’s resident experts Angelina, Sandra, and Rafael Bautista are always available for consultation either at their store on Caya Betico Croes, or in the Royal Plaza Mall. Last minute bargains on fine cosmetics can also be found at their shop in the duty free section of the airport.
